[u-ling Hills, where connection is made with Kiangsi. There have also been new lines or extensions in Hainan and Ch'in Chon. The Empero at first acceded to the Viceroy's request; but later the Board at Peking protested successfully against the proposed scale of rewards. It held that the officers were entitled only to ordinary and not as before to special recompense or marks of distinction. On the earlier occasion the work was undertaken for the first time, while on the latter it was merely in extension or continuation what had already been done. Secondly, the circumstances were different. The original line was specially required at the moment for the transmission of military intelligence, while there was nothing of pressing importance with regard to the later ones. The Viceroy combats this view with great animation. With regard to immediate importance, he holds that the new lines will bear comparison with the old one. For one of them was required for the operations agains the Hainan aborigines and another for the transmission of instructions at the time of the lemarkation of the Tonquin Boundary; in both of which cases, moreover, they materially contributed to the success which was happily achieved. Or if dangers and difficulties be taken into consideration, they will be found greater in the later case. With regard to the second grievance, the naunfacture of soy, a long discussion ensued as o whether this could be considered as a nuisance. The President said that this could not be put down as a nuisance because injurious to although it produced a most disagre-able smell. In some stages of the process, a person who was unaccustomed to it, getting the benefit of the smell would, in nine cases out of ten. empty his stomach.

Dr. CANTLIE said that under the Ordinance any trade was deemed a nuisance which was noisome, noxious or unkealthy. Mr. HUMPREYH said the Board would not be too careful in interfering with any trade not notually detrimental to health. Dr. CANTLIE proposed that the following aggestion be sent to the Government: That the Sanitary Board consider the complaint as to the manufacture of soy, a grievance. The Board are of opinion that the manufacture should be considered one of a noisome and noxi us nature.

Dr. CANTLIE said he thought that these questions with regard to the drying of sugar bags The Amy Sherwin Company gave another and the manufacture of soy should be settled once and for all, and therefore he thought that the subject should be brought up again for discussion, say, in a month.

In reply to a petition from the Incorporated Chamber of Commerce of Liverpool on the privileges accorded to foreign steamers in British Colonial ports, a letter has been received from the Premier saying that the question is engaging the attention of Her Majesty's Government and that a further communication on the subject will shortly be addressed to the Chamber. The following is the petition :-

THE MEMORIAL OF THE INCORPORATED CHAM-BER OF COMMERCE OF LIVERPOOL. Humbly Sheweth-That your Memorialists have received a series of communications from the Hongkong General Chamber of Commerce, and amongst them an Address from that Chamber to Her Majesty the Queen, wherein it is

1.—That since the year 1880 there has been annually passed by the Legislative Council of Hongkong an Ordinance conferring upon the steamers of the Compagnie des Messageries Maritimes the rights, privileges, and immunities of vessels of war, amongst which, according to another document issued by the Hongkong (a)—Freedom from search in British ports, un- dinary metropolitan examination, and the exaless sanctioned by the resident representative | miners have already been selected.

which are stated to be in excess of those asked for by the Imperial German Government, wer steamers of the Norddeutscher Lloyd. 3.—That such privileges were first given French Government mail steamers in British home ports in virtue of a Postal Convention made by Great Britain with France in 1856, by which Convention similar privileges were given by the French Government to British Government mail steamers in French and Algerian ports. 4:- That these privileges confer a prestige in the eyes of the Chinese upon the Foreign Lines named, and facilitate the business of the lines to an extent injurious to the interests of British shipowners and carriers of cargo competing witl them; that, on the other hand, such full privi leges are not enjoyed by any British steamers

5.—That, for these and other reasons given in the address of the Hongkong Chamber to Her Majesty such privileges bestowed at Hongkong or elsewhere, should be withdrawn or

It is moreover stated in a letter from Lord Rosebery to Count Hatzfeldt, deated April 26th 1386, that a Postal Convention similar to that made with France in 1856, was made with Belgium in 1876, and that in a case brought Mr. HUMPHREYS asked if there were any before the British Courte in which privileges factory, consuming the whole establishment. of the Convention were pleaded, judgment was given adverse to the terms of the Convention, on the ground that such Convention was not legal unless authorised by Parliament. It is therefore the opinion of your Memoralists that such privileges, not being allowed by the law of the land should be withdrawn and furthermore, that if it is necessary to grant any exemptions to vessels belonging to a foreign nation, they should be such alone as are un the prejudice of British vessels and the interests

The Council of this Chamber have unanimously adopted the following resolution, vis.:-That foreign vessels engaged in trade, whether subsidised or not by their Governments, should not enjoy any privileges in British ports which are not accorded to British vessels.

Your Memorialists therefore humbly pray that your Lordships will be pleased to advise that passed by the Legislative Council of Hongkour on the 28th day of August, 1888, and objected to by the Hongkong Chamber may be disallowed, along with other Ordinances of a similar preferential kind passed in other British Crown Colonies

And your Memorialists will ever pray. Given under the Common Seal of the Incorcorated Chamber of Commerce of Liverpool this 10th day of January, 1889.

SUMMARY OF THE "KWANG-PAO."

> 23rd March. PERING NOTES. The paper of to-day opens with several items of news from the capital, most of which refer to the festivities that came off at Peking on the occasion of the young Emperor's marriage.

The day before the marriage the three Princes Mr. Low as Director to confirmed." were deputed by His Majesty to offer oblations in the Temples dedicated to Heaven and to Earth and in Ancestral Temple.

A few days before the ceremony the Board of Works carried out decorations on a grand scale starting from the Palace as far as the Tachen gate. Silks and sating were profusely put up and lanterns were suspended in large numbers on both aides, which at night illuminated the street à jour. A decree issued from the Throne remitted all censure and punishment to which officials were liable, as a proof of Imperial favour.

A grand review of troops will take place on the parade ground outside the city walls, at which the Emperor will be present in porson. The material and timber necessary for the repuirs to the I Ho Yuan are to be brought up to News. Peking from Shanghai and other places, and orders have been issued to the various Custom

After a careful examination and comparison of what the Commissioners write from their several local standpoints. I have now the honour to submit this Report for the Yamen's consideration. 2.—Not only is Chins the native place of Tea. but Chinese Tea is superior in flavour to all other Tess; and yet, although the export of Chinese Tea has gone on increasing, a large proportion of the increasing number of Teadrinkers in England take Indian instead of China's Black Teas, and in America take Japanese instead of China's Green Tens. The cause of this is not that the raw product—the leaf has deteriorated in China, but rather because india and Japan take so much greater pains to prepare their Teas well that not only do the Tens keep without changing, but they can be do their painstaking producers know how to save wisely. China's failure to take the same pains is partly because of the old reason—it was always so -and partly because falling prices have is that every new advance gives competitors an additional hold on the market; and although China's export trade has not yet fallen off, it is widely asserted that in time it must cease to exist: That other Teas should be sold cheaper

s explained in two ways:— (a) China's Teas are more heavily taxed. Although all Teas pay the same Import Duty at their destination, they are differently taxed on departure; e.g., while Japanese Teas pay only a fourth of what Chinese pay, Indian Teas pay

(b) Inda's Teas are more economically prepared. In India the work of a large plautation is managed by one head from first to last, but it is not so in China: Tea growers on the hill-side own only a few shrubs each,—the pickers sell to the collectors.—the collectors to Chinese traders, -and the latter, again, to Foreign meromonics; thus, expenses are 'greater, and Tes therefore

3.—The merchants' recommendations are that taxation ought to be reconsidered and defects remedied, but they are not all in accord respecting taxation. Some assert that if Likin and Laties are not entirely repealed, the Tea trade will be destroyed; while others are of opinion On the 3rd of this mouth, the Viceroy pre- that to lighten taxation will be of no advantage that while to lighten taration would be of certain and immediate disadvantage to revenue, to do so would be; at best, of but uncertain advantage to trade. In the case of the Indian competition, for example, Indian Tea can be sold in England; and at a profit, for about od. a pound, whereas Chinese Tea cannot even be sold at a profit for 9d.; therefore, supposing the tax on Chinese Tea, viz., about 2d. a pound, entirely abolished, Indian Tea would still undersell it id. a pound. savages from the neighbouring tribes thronged I am therefore of opinion it is useless to touch either Export Duty or ordinary Linia. The merchants are presumably quite right in their statistics; but as to the change they propose in the duty. I think the consideration of it may be deferred without danger, although I do not deny that it might result in larger sales. 4,-As regards what merchants allege respecting defeats to be eradicated. the opposite that takes place, and the result is inferiority of quality and elevation of price. The merchants further recommend the appointment of a joint Commission of intelligent experts to spend one season in Chinese Tea districts and another among Indian Tea plantations, to study in person the processes, practice, and oustom of each, and, after a proper comparison, advise as to what him ought to charge or drop or adopt, It is also recommended that China should either open a Tea School, or establish a Model Plantation, or place a given Tea district under the supervision of properly appointed Government experts, or charter a Company to conduct the business of a Traplintation on the Indian plan. I am of opinion that any or all of these would be beneficial to both trade and commodiby; the idea is, of course, to provide a fitting pattern for all to study and imitate. It has been decided to erect ironworks in con- Poulom and Sunghie Dua Samantan Mining nection with the Yokosuka Dockyard at an estimated cost of $190,000. The construction is to be commenced this year.

The most valuable of a collection of articles shipped by the Yangtse for the French Exhibition was a Cabinet from the Industrial Bureau valued at $2,500, and a pair of bronze fountains, valued at 34,000. The fountains, which stand 20 ft. high, are of the form of two storks with wings expanded. A native paper states that they are to be fixed in front of the Exhibition. The half-yearly meeting of the Yokohama Specie Bank was held on the 9th inst. and was attended by 239 shareholders. BANGKOK.

We had already the pleasure some time ago to notice the activity of the Naval Department and the energetic way they go to work to save money. Another instance of their activity has come to our notice this week; a large gun, which was accidentally sunk in the Petchaburee river. over a year ago, has been successfully raised and brought to the arsenal.

The ceremonies connected with the conferring of a title of honour on the eldest son of the second Queen of Siam, commenced on the 11th and were continued until the 14th March. On the foremon of the latter day the title was actually conferred amid great rejoicings, and the whole proceedings terminated with a large and splendid procession through the palace grounds in the evening. Similar processions, we may state, had taken place on the previous days, but the final one was perhaps the longest and most interesting, more than 2,000 persons, not including the military, having taken part in it.-Токіо 29,92 19 Токіо 30,01 — Naganaki ... 30,30 — Mercantile Gazetto.

NOW ON SALE. IMPERIAL QUARTO. INGLISH AND CHINESE DICTIONARY DICTIONARY. WITH THE PUNTL AND MANDARIN

PRONUNCIATION. An Angle-Chinese Dictionary, published at Daily Press Office, Hongkong. For comprehensiveness and practical service this Work stands unrivalled. All the new words which the Chinese have of late years been compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in catenso. Each and avery word is fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size space, achieving a clearness not previously attained, and dispensing with those vast margins and vacant spaces which have heretofore characterized Chinese publications. To illustrate the vast scope of the work the following facts are submitted for consideration :— Chalmers' Vocabulary contains about 16,000 Chinese characters, and Medhurst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst this work contains more than 50,000 English words, and upwards of 600,000 Chinese characters. Again, despite all the grammars and other elementary works as yet published, the student of this difficult lauguage absolutely requires examples to display the various applications and equivalents of different words which have one general meaning. Of these examples this work contains more than five times as many as any other Dictionary hitherto pub-Lished. For practical purposes the arrangement of the work is so complete, that a reference to its pages enables a person who understands English to communicate effectively with natives who understand nothing but Chinese. In this respect the work will be found indispensable to all Europeans residing in China, and to the natives themselves it explains subjects fully with which very few indeed of them are perfectly acquainted. To parties resident in England and interested in China it cannot but be invaluable occasion-

It comprises upwards of two thousand large 4 Vols. IMPERIAL QUARTO, Price. $20.
